The Learning Connection for Adult Education is a program on our campus sponsored by the Sisters of St. Joseph. As an independent community-based organization, The Learning Connection is affiliated with the Brentwood Public School District and the Brentwood Public Library, all of which aim to serve the educational needs of adults in our area. Classes meet five days a week and aim to provide the tools for the empowerment of women who are undereducated or speak languages other than English.

Through stories and visuals, Sister Kathleen Carberry CSJ, founder and former Executive Director of The Learning Connection, will share with us how in a multicultural, non-competitive setting participants flourish. They often represent over 18 countries and speak many different languages.
